FDP Rationale:

To improve the quality of Technical Education in the country, 3 weeks Student (SIP) has been made mandatory for all Engineering colleges in the country and to prepare the faculty for the same, National Coordination Committee for Student Induction (NCC-IP) has been formed by AICTE. Various Faculty Development Programmes (FDP) are being offered with the support of AICTE HQ and Regional Offices for providing training to the faculties. Modules on Universal Human Values (UHV) are the key part of SIP for the purpose of inculcating values to students. UHV-I is offered as part of SIP in the beginning of the First year B.Tech Programme and UHV-II is a mandatory credit course which is offered at the second year. FDPs at various levels are provided to the faculties by AICTE, NCC-IP team at regular intervals to equip them as UHV mentors for handling UHV-I and UHV-II courses.

Objectives:

1. To prepare the faculty for teaching UHV-I and UHV-II
2. To equip the faculty for providing Holistic Value Based Education to the students.
3. To help the faculties also to lead a fulfilling life by maintaining harmony at individual, family, society and nature level.

Registration:

The eligibility criterion to register for UHV-II FDP was the successful completion of UHV-I Introductory Workshop. AICTE Induction Portal for registration was opened on July 14th.

Number of Registrations : 127

Number of attendees : 71

The 71 attendees included 46 participants from Kerala and 25 participants from other states. There were 2 participants from Gujarat, 1 from Karnataka, 1 participant from Uttarakhand, 4 participants from Telangana and 17 participants from Tamil Nadu.

Student Involvement:

To encourage the student participation for the FDP, UHV cell student members were given opportunity to get involved in all the arrangements of the programme. They were also given opportunity to express their opinions during some of the sessions. Students from Nature Club and Aksharakootam (Creative Writing Club, MBCET) presented souvenirs to the NCC-IP Team and participants. The students of Nature Club presented details for the growth of 'plantable seed pens', the UHV Cell souvenir. Students of Aksharakootam presented handwritten quotes on UHV themes along with personal 'thank you' notes.

FDP Format:

The 'Five Day FDP' comprised 25 sessions from 9:00 am to 6:30 pm with three bio breaks of 20 minutes each and an hour long lunch break from 12:45 pm to 1:45 pm.

There were two forenoon and one afternoon sessions each day managed by the main speaker, Prof. UmeshYadhav. The evening session from 3:40 pm to 5:30 pm was utilized for sharing and as Q & A session. Last session of each day was assigned for group wise discussion. All the 71 participants were divided into 4 groups and sharing session was held based on each day's content.
