PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Mental health is vital because it forms the foundation for an individual's overall well-being and the effective functioning of a community, impacting how a person thinks, feels, acts, and handles stress. Good mental health fosters emotional stability, allows for productive work and learning, and enables healthy relationships and community contributions, while poor mental health can lead to significant distress, impairment in daily life and an increased risk for mental health conditions. Mental health encompasses emotional, psychological and social well-being, determining how individuals cope with life's challenges and interact with others. A positive mental health enables individuals to realize their full potential, enjoy life, and achieve their personal and professional goals. Government mental health initiatives in India include the National Mental Health Programme (NMHP) and the Tele-MANAS initiative, which provides free tele-counselling services through a national helpline and mobile application, connecting individuals with support and information in their local languages. The government also focuses on developing mental health professionals, promoting awareness, and integrating mental healthcare into the broader healthcare system. As an Institution that recognises mental health and well-being as integral to academic success, professional development and a safe campus environment, MBCET adopts a preventive, proactive and student-centred approach to mental health, aligned with national and state initiatives.
